The City News

NOVEMBER 2008

THE MAYOR'S CORNER

Dear Residents,

For our friends and family from the North that are returning home to Atlantis for the winter months, Welcome Back! We certainly hope that you enjoyed your time away and we look forward to the coming months of fellowship and good fortune.

At this time of year, we should give thanks for the many blessings we have and enjoy. For now, hurricanes have spared us, we remain the most respected municipality in Palm Beach County, and despite the national economic turmoil, we remain fiscally sound due to prudent management and the unwavering service provided by our city staff and Police Department. As I asked you to consider last year, a contribution to the "Employee Holiday Fund" can help these individuals who serve us by providing them with a little extra assistance in making it through this holiday season. These contributions will be divided equally amongst the city staff. Contributions can be made to:

The Employee Holiday Fund

City of Atlantis
260 Orange Tree Drive
Atlantis, FL 33462

Over the coming weeks, we will be decorating our homes and golf carts with festive decorations and an abundance of lights. While doing so, please make sure you use all necessary safety precautions and remember that "more in one plug" is not necessarily better. Learning first hand last year that I should stick to what I know and leave electrical work to experts, my attempts to light my home and golf cart almost left me homeless and, of course....cart-less. Please decorate safely and if you need electrical advice, you now know not to ask me for assistance.

The Holiday Golf Cart Parade (December 8th) is in the final stages of preparation and will prove, once again, to be the event of the season. Kids, the weatherman predicts that it will snow once again during the event so dress accordingly and have fun. I really love attending this event because it displays our true colors. We are, after all, a wonderful city comprised of great people living, working and playing here. I look forward to seeing you all there.

In this season of Thanksgiving, I thank you for another great year of your continued support and confidence.

Serving Proudly,

Mayor Manny Fernandez

Pat Schweikart and Linda Reichenstein to Chair 18th Annual Hab-a-Hearts Luncheon

The Hab-a-Hearts, an auxiliary benefiting the Palm Beach Habilitation Center, have named Pat Schweikart as Chair and Linda Reichenstein, as Co-Chair of the 18th Annual Hab-a-Hearts Luncheon. This event will be held on Monday, February 9th at Mar-a-Lago, Palm Beach. With a theme of "Open Your Heart" it will feature a silent auction of over 200 items during a complimentary wine reception. Informal modeling by the Shoppes of Plaza del Mar in Manalapan and a live auction by Jim Accursio will be featured during lunch.

The Palm Beach Habilitation Center, a United Way Agency, is a private non-profit organization that provides employment, job placement, residential and retirement services for men and women with mental, emotional and physical disabilities. Since opening in 1959, over 8,000 men and women have been employed in this community due to training received in the Work Center program. Each year, more than 700 individuals receive services from the PB Hab Center.

Tickets are $200 each. To receive an invitation, purchase a ticket or for more information, please call Roxanne at 965-8500, ext. 212.

Thank you, Atlantis!

Starting with this issue of City News, we'll be acknowledging those residents and business associates who have made contributions to our 50th birthday celebration...either by sponsoring the day's events on April 4, or by placing a congratulatory message in the "Memory Book." We'll keep the list cumulative, so we can see how our contribution list is growing! See page 8 to see how you can add your name to this list...Thank you!

Minimum Property Standards:

The City of Atlantis is undertaking a Code Compliance Campaign to address Minimum Property Standards, which serves the City of Atlantis to ensure the City remains one of the most aesthetically beautiful country club communities in Florida. The following is an excerpt of City of Atlantis Ordinance 248, Section 4.61

Section 4-61 - Maintenance and appearance standards for all structures.

A. The owner and/or manager of all real property within the City shall maintain the exterior of the premises in such a manner to conform with all City codes and ordinances to avoid blighting influence on neighboring properties, and to avoid the creation of hazard to public health, safety and welfare. Properties shall be maintained in accordance with the following standards:

1. The exterior of all premises and every structure thereon, including all parts of the structure and appurtenances where exposed to public view, shall not show evidence of deterioration, weathering, discoloration, ripping, tearing or other holes or breaks. All screened enclosures shall be properly fitted and maintained. All other surfaces shall be maintained free of broken glass, crumbling stone, brick or stucco, or other conditions reflective of deterioration or inadequate maintenance.
2. All surfaces requiring paint or which are otherwise protected from the elements shall be kept painted or protected. Painted surfaces shall be maintained free of graffiti, and with uniform colors, void of any evidence of deterioration.
3. All off-street parking spaces shall be asphalt, concrete or block and shall be smooth-surfaced and in good repair, in compliance with City codes.
4. Only one principal color may be used on each structure, excluding those used in accent architectural features and/or trim.
5. Only the following roofing materials are allowed: (a) Concrete tiles; (b) Barrel tiles; (c) Cedar shake shingles.
6. The entire yard where exposed to public view must be landscaped. Height of trees, hedges, etc., shall conform to all applicable City ordinances. Play areas, gardens, flower beds, driveways, walks, etc., not intended to have vegetative cover should be clearly defined and maintained free of uncultivated growth. Yards not utilizing vegetative cover must utilize a material that meets all City codes, and such material must be maintained free of uncultivated growth.

Should you have any questions you can contact Sergeant Sean Mahoney or Sergeant William Amason at the police department, or city hall for clarification of Minimum Property Standards.

Solicitation Ordinance:

The following reminder is issued for the information and benefit of our residents. If solicitors are observed or encountered and they do not have a license from the city to solicit, or have approached someone on the city "do not solicit" list, please call the police department immediately. If a resident would like to be included on the "do not solicit" list, please contact Joy at city hall.

Chapter 11.7 SOLICITORS AND CANVASSERSSec. 11.7-1. Definitions.

The word "canvasser" or "solicitor" as used in this chapter shall mean any individual, whether a resident of the city or not, traveling either by foot or motor vehicle or any other type of conveyance, from place to place, from house to house, or from street to street, distributing commercial advertising material, taking or attempting to take orders for sales of goods, wares, merchandise, or personal property, or soliciting charitable contributions within the city.

It's your party... celebrate 50 years!

The big party to celebrate our City's 50th anniversary is scheduled for Saturday, April 4 (rain date April 5). We're planning a parade, buffet dinner, and games for the kids—and we'll cap off the festivities with fireworks! Future issues of City News will have more details about events, times, and locations, as well as information about how you and your family can participate in the gala affair. We're also putting together a commemorative book and DVD. Please help by sending us your stories and photos, either by e-mail (Atlantis50th@atlantisfl.gov) or by bringing them to City Hall. Please put your name, address and phone number on the back of the photos, and we'll make sure you get them back.

Another way to participate is to be a sponsor. All contributions are tax-deductible, and we are asking Atlantis-based businesses to be sponsors, too. There are several opportunities for sponsorship:

Gold (Title Sponsor): $25,000 Banner display in parade, logo on all written materials, recognition for 2009 calendar year and in all media releases, and 2-page ad in commemorative book.

Silver (Fireworks): $15,000 Banner display in parade, logo on all written materials, recognition for 2009 calendar year and all media releases, and 1-page ad in commemorative book

Bronze (T-shirts): $10,000 Logo on T-shirt sleeve and on all written materials, recognition for 2009 calendar year and all media releases, 1/2-page ad in commemorative book (sponsored by JFK Medical Center)

Table and chairs for picnic: $7500

Children's games: $5000

Sound & Stage: $2500

Commemorative bag: $2500

Trolley: $2500

Commemorative pin: $1500

Marching band: $1500

License plates: $1500

If you are interested in being a sponsor for one of the categories listed above (sponsorships can be shared with another family or resident), please contact Mo Thornton at City Hall (965-1744).

You can also place a congratulatory ad in the commemorative book. Each page is approximately 5 X 7 inches. You can choose: 1/4-page ($25); 1/2-page ($50); 1-page ($100). See the other side of this page for examples and to submit your ad for publication.

We look forward to your participation on April 4 and thank you for your support as we celebrate 50 years of Atlantis, a Paradise Found.

The Fig Whitefly

This new pest is now present in Atlantis. The Fig whitefly, Singhiella simplex, is a very small winged insect. These insects typically feed on the undersides of leaves with their "needle-like" mouthparts. The fig whitefly can seriously injure host plants by sucking juices from them causing wilting, yellowing, stunting, leaf drop and even death.

Although the fig whitefly feeds on several species of the Ficus family, they are perhaps of most concern for their infestation of Ficus benjamina, the very common hedge and large tree seen all over the city.

Finding the presence of this insect can prove quite difficult. Several publications have suggested that disturbing the foliage will result in causing the fly, a tiny gnat like white insect, to appear. I must admit that I have not personally been very successful in detecting the whiteflies this way. What we normally see are spots on the undersides of the Ficus leaves. These are normally the remains (skin) of the pupae after the adult has emerged.

What we normally see is a thinning of the hedge. The leaves have thinned out so that the stems of the plant are visible. I have noted that the leaves surrounding the barren area are generally cupped, brittle, and have the tell-tale spots on the bottom. A look at the ground usually exhibits an abnormally large amount of leaves. These may still be green, but quite dry upon closer examination. It is too late to control the insect by spraying these areas. Control must either be before initial infestations or by systemic chemicals applied to the soil around the target plants. Once the leaves are gone, so is the pest. Remember that if your ficus is attacked, cut back on the water. Leaves require large amounts but barren plants can quickly become subject to root problems from excess water.

Recommendations for whitefly prevention and control on ficus leaves consist of applying soaps or plant oils to disrupt egg and pupa development. These treatments must cover the bottom of the leaves and be repeated on a 7 to 10 day schedule. Be careful applying oils when the temperature is over 80 on a sunny day. The foliage can be burned.

Landscape control and prevention is best accomplished by treating the soil around the plants. I can find only two products that are available for these applications. They are Spectricede Systemic Tree & Shrub Insect Control + Fertilizer and Bayer Advanced Tree & Shrub Insect Control. Watch for prohibitions about use around water! As the names say, these are systemic products. Read the labels carefully and apply only as recommended.

It may be to ones advantage to have a commercial applicator treat your Ficus before any whiteflies are detected. They have access to chemicals that reportedly can offer protection for up to 4 months. Remember this is probably not your lawn maintenance person. He is not normally commercially licensed. Unless he contacts someone else, he will probably apply the same chemicals you can yourself.

There is hope that beneficial insects can be detected and introduced to help control fig whiteflies. The University of Florida has reported natural enemies attacking these whiteflies. Of course if these are to be ultimately successful, the use of chemicals will have to be curtailed.

Right now we are watching and hoping that somehow the impact in the city will be minimal. Unfortunately this is not proving realistic in areas where infestations have occurred to date. I am sure more information will be forthcoming in the newspapers and at your garden centers.

Since the city cannot legislate mandatory control measures, some people will be proactive, some will be reactive, and some will just wait and see. How all this works out is to be determined. Good luck whichever method you employ.

ATLANTIS NEWS

There was a very interesting article about our own Joan Tiberi in the Palm Beach Post on Sunday, October 19, 2008. She considers herself a late-blooming artist since for many years she devoted herself to her husband and eight children. When the children were grown and her husband retired, she indulged in her second passion, painting.

She took formal classes and workshops in watercolor painting in western New York and started exhibiting and selling her art 20 years ago. She has participated in Delray Beach and Lake Worth outdoor shows. She also is an active member of the Lake Worth Art League and participates in its gallery exhibits.

She also began teaching watercolor classes, In fact, Joan teaches art classes here in Atlantis on Wednesday afternoons. If you are interested, give her a call at 561-547-5123.
